Notre Dame faculty and students are hitting the road to share their research, scholarship, and creative endeavor at this year’s Shamrock Series.

Mark your calendar for three special events in New York City this year!

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 2018

gameday.nd.edu
#ShamrockSeries

All events are free and open to the public.

“IN, AROUND, AND UNDER NEW YORK”

Through an expert panel discussion and a photographic tour of an annual hands-on educational experience, Department of Civil & Environmental Engineering & Earth Sciences students, faculty, and corporate partners will discuss and explore the challenges of managing New York City’s aging infrastructure in light of how it affects both natural and man-made environments.

10:30-11:30 a.m.
New York West Ballroom
Sheraton New York Times Square Hotel
811 7th Avenue 53rd Street

“FACT, FICTION, AND THE NEWSFEED”

An expert panel co-presented by the Department of Computer Science and Engineering and the Kellogg Institute for International Studies will explain how social media services put together your newsfeed, how news ranking systems can be manipulated, and other topics related to the crowd-sourced curation of news.

1:00-2:00 p.m.
New York West Ballroom
Sheraton New York Times Square Hotel
811 7th Avenue 53rd Street

“THE IRISH IN NEW YORK CITY”

Presented by the Keough-Naughton Institute for Irish Studies, this event will highlight the scholarship, research, and creative works of faculty as well as collaborations with New York City’s leading universities and cultural institutions surrounding the Irish immigrant story in New York.

3:15-4:30 p.m.
American Irish Historical Society
991 5th Avenue (across from the Metropolitan Museum of Art)