

The Ornament of the World

ANSARI INSTITUTE
FOR GLOBAL ENGAGEMENT WITH RELIGION

A film about an extraordinary time in history when Muslims, Christians and Jews forged a common cultural identity that frequently transcended their religious differences

Friday, October 11, 2019
3:15 p.m.
Hesburgh Center Auditorium
(running time 1 hour 43 minutes)

Following the film, join us for a discussion with director Michael Schwarz, executive producer Kiran Kiki Kapany, Thomas E. Burman, director of Notre Dame's Medieval Institute, and Atalia Omer, professor of religion, conflict, and peace studies at the Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies.

cosponsored by
Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies
Medieval Institute
Nanovic Institute for European Studies

KEOUGH SCHOOL OF
GLOBAL AFFAIRS

